(PROPOSED) SCHEDULING ORDER - 1

1 Interests in Property and (II) for Declaratory Judgment [Adv. Pro. Docket No. 11]
2 (the “Complaint”). On October 19, 2021, Defendants filed a Stipulated Motion to 3 Indefinitely Extend Defendants’ Deadline to File Motion or Answer Complaint
4 [Adv. Pro. Docket No. 11] (the “Stipulation”). On November 3, 2021, Plaintiffs
5 filed a Notice of Deadline for Defendants to Answer Complaint [Adv. Pro. Docket
6 No. 11]. On November 17, 2021, Defendant Karen L. Easterday filed her Answer,
7 Affirmative Defenses, and Counterclaims to Complaint [Adv. Pro. Docket No. 14]
8 and Defendants Cody and Debby Easterday filed their Answer, Affirmative
9 Defenses, and Counterclaims to Complaint [Adv. Pro. Docket No. 15]. At a status
10 conference on November 17, 2021, Plaintiffs proposed that a trial in the Adversary
11 Proceeding take place in April 2022. Mrs. Easterday disagrees that a fair trial can 12 be conducted within that timeframe; the question of which parties owned each of 13 the real property, water rights, and irrigation improvements that were sold (the 14 “Assets”) as between Easterday Farms, Easterday Ranches, and the Easterdays
15 individually, and the allocation of the value of each of those Assets among each of 16 the entities and individuals are fact and legal intensive and form the crux of the 17 entire bankruptcy proceeding. As set out below, Mrs. Easterday proposes a 18 scheduling order that allows for an accelerated, but potentially adequate, time to 19 conduct discovery and a trial in this Adversary Proceeding.

20 This Scheduling Order supersedes any other scheduling order(s) entered to 21 date in this Adversary Proceeding. The following schedule shall apply:

- 22 1. The Court has waived the initial disclosures set out in FRCP 26(a)(1).
- 23 2. Deadline to identify attorneys/decision makers for Plaintiffs:
24 December 3, 2021.
